

The Berkeley Center for Green Chemistry

Hass School of Business

Characterizing the Business drivers

Labor and Occupational Health Program

Implementing understanding

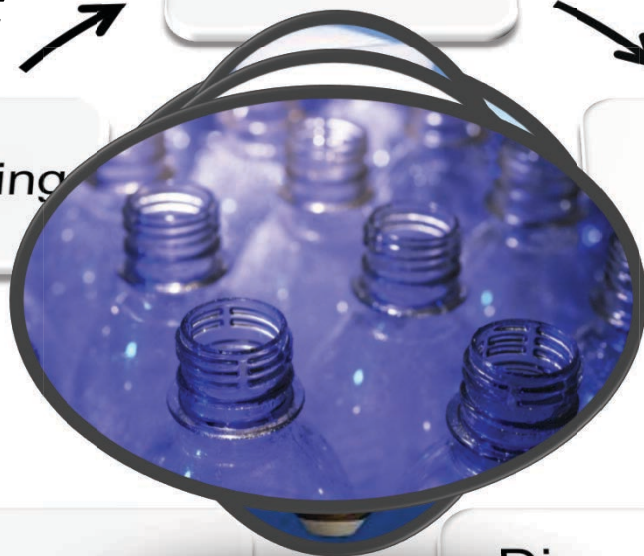

Manufacture

College of Engineering

Developing more efficient processes

Processing

Use

Extraction

Disposal/
Recycle

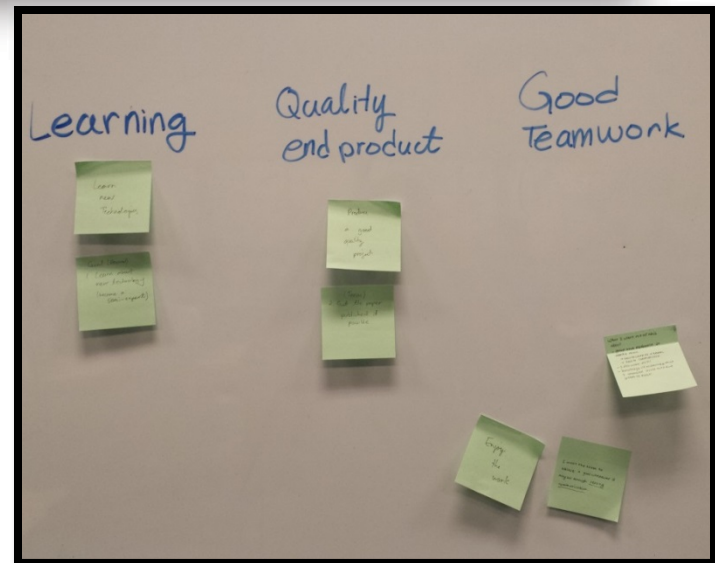

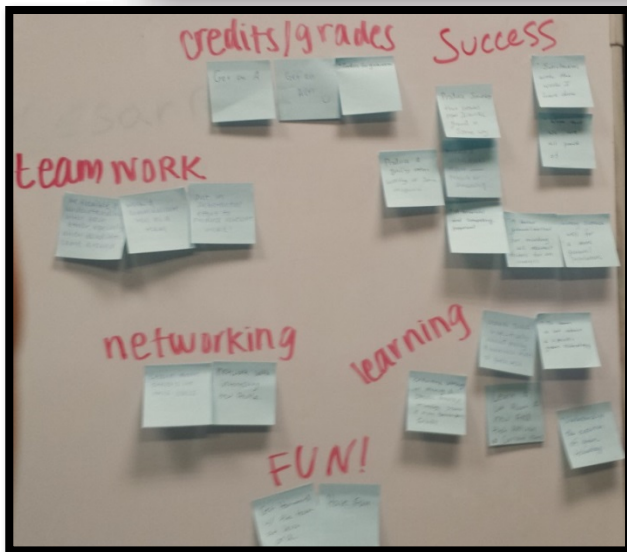

School of Public Health and Toxicology

Ensuring safer materials selection

College of Natural Resources

Understanding the impacts of chemical products on the environment

An interactive approach to graduate education

Focus on developing a collaborative approach.

Video

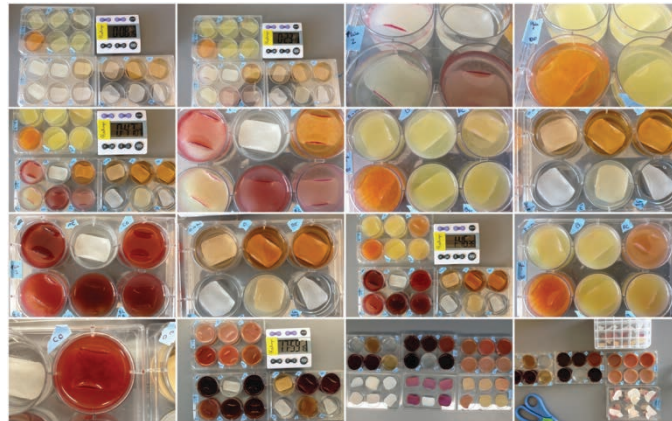

- <https://vimeo.com/124053209>

Outcomes

BEAUTYCOUNTER

Benefits for our center

- EPA grant
- Biomimicry Partnership
- Engagement with new industry partners

What we need to run a project

1. Partner with domain specific technical expertise
2. Willingness to share results
3. Funding to support the class and partnership with biomimicry.